A True Love Story

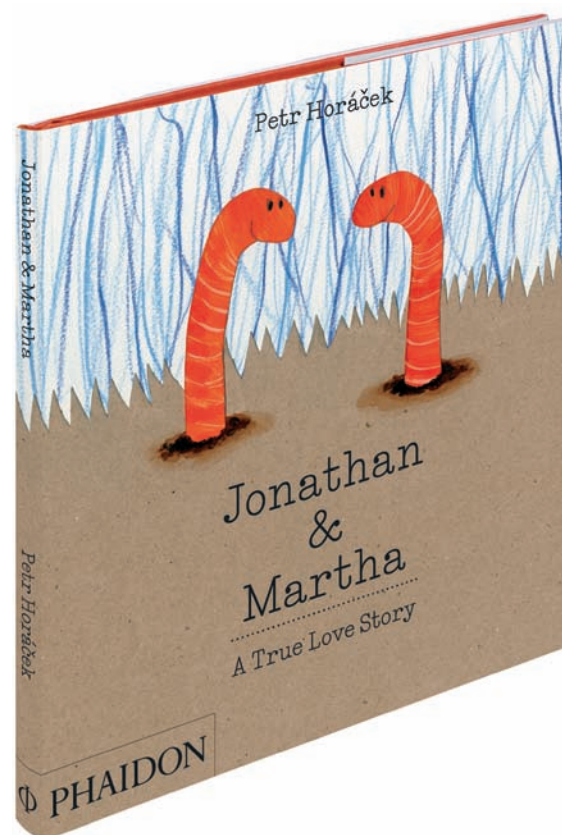

PHAIDON

Jonathan and Martha are two lonely worms that live on opposite sides of a tree. One day, a big juicy pear lands on the ground between them. Jonathan nibbles from the left, and Martha nibbles from the right ... and soon they are caught in a tangle!

Using his signature style of eye-catching illustration and collage and simple narrative, Horáček weaves together a story that captures the development of friendship—and love—between two unlikely worms. They fight, they have fun, they encounter danger, but most importantly, they do it together.

Perfect for parents reading to pre-schoolers or for older children reading alone, Jonathan and Martha is a classic tale about the importance of sharing and the value of friendship.

Petr Horáček was born in the Czech Republic and studied at the Academy of Fine Art in Prague. His first books received the Books for Children Newcomer Award and he has since published more than twenty-five award-winning titles for children under 5.
